Tangguh hosts visit from SKK Migas Chairman, Director General of Oil & Gas and leadership from Ministry of Energy & Mineral Resources

SKK Migas chairman Dwi Soetjipto, director general of oil & gas Tutuka Ariadji, special staff for the minister of energy & mineral resources Triharyo Hendrawan Soesilo, expert staff for the minister of energy & mineral resources Nanang Untung and President Joko Widodo's special staff Billy Mambrasar with bp Indonesia leadership and employees.

JAKARTA - On Tuesday 21 June we hosted a visit from the SKK Migas chairman Dwi Soetjipto and director general of oil & gas Tutuka Ariadji. This is their first visit to Tangguh LNG. We also welcomed special staff for the minister of energy & mineral resources Triharyo Hendrawan Soesilo (Hengki), expert staff for the minister of energy & mineral resources Nanang Untung and President Joko Widodo's special staff Billy Mambrasar.

Our stakeholders saw firsthand how we run the largest gas-producing field in Indonesia, as well as the progress of our Train 3 project. The group also visited our main control building where they met with our workers, including the graduates from Tangguh Papuan Technician Apprentice Programme.

SKK Migas chairman Dwi Soetjipto said: "I'm very happy to finally be able to visit Tangguh LNG site. I'm also very proud to see many workers from Papua here at Tangguh, as field technicians and in strategic roles running Tangguh production. I am optimistic that bp can continue bringing maximum benefits for Indonesia and Papua Barat."

Nader Zaki, bp regional president Asia Pacific, said: "It has been a great privilege welcoming Pak Dwi, Pak Tutuka, Pak Hengki, Pak Nanang and Pak Billy to Tangguh. This visit is a vote of confidence in our strategic long-term partnership and shows the strategic importance of Tangguh LNG as national strategic asset. We are so proud of the resilience of our 12,000 workers at Tangguh who managed to keep pushing and progressing the execution of our major Tangguh Expansion Project while managing the largest gas-producing field in Indonesia safely and reliably during the pandemic. We are also proud of our sustainable cooperation with all our stakeholders in the Government of Indonesia. Together, we will bring the optimum value for the energy industry in Indonesia."
